

NASA SPACE TECH CATALYST PRIZE

Join the webinar and learn more about the numerous cash prize competition

Are you a researcher, innovator, organization or leader supporting or contributing to the space technology ecosystem? Get connected to the NASA Early Stage Innovations and Partnerships (ESIP) portfolio and you could be awarded numerous cash prizes.

The goal of the NASA Space Tech Catalyst Prize Competition is to build a community of a diverse pool of innovators competing for NASA's space technology research and development (R&D) awards.

Webinar highlights

- Learn about the prize competition
- Understand the submission criteria
- Ask questions to help you prepare your submission
- Get engaged with NASA's ESIP R&D portfolio

Webinar 1

October 25, 2023

2:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m EST

Webinar 2

November 28, 2023

2:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m EST

Register to attend the informational webinar at spacetechnologycatalystprize.org

About NASA ESIP: The Early-Stage Innovations and Partnerships (ESIP) Portfolio of NASA supports early-stage innovation and technology development activities in relevant R&D categories. It fosters collaboration with diverse communities and catalyzes innovation across the space tech landscape.